Our History

The Capitol Theatre was originally designed by B. Marcus Priteca and opened on April 5th, 1920, as the Mercy Theatre, named after its owner, Frederick Mercy Sr. At the time of its construction, the Capitol Theatre was heralded as the largest theatre in the Pacific Northwest, and featured motion pictures, vaudeville acts, and touring road shows. In 1972 ownership of the Capitol Theatre was transferred to the City of Yakima, and the building was successfully placed on the National Register of Historic Places on April 3rd, 1973.

Shortly thereafter, on August 11th, 1975, much of the Capitol burned to the ground in a tragic fire, leaving little more than a smoldering facade. Undaunted by the disaster, the newly formed nonprofit, the Capitol Theatre Committee led fundraising efforts to restore the theatre. The Capitol was painstakingly renovated to its former glory and a basement with restrooms was added to further expand its use. The Capitol Theatre held its grand re-opening ceremony on November 4th, 1978 (just 733 days after the fire), which featured a sold-out performance by Bob Hope.

The Capitol Theater underwent further expansion on April 15th, 2011, when the Production Center, loading dock facilities, and the 4th Street Black Box Theatre were added on to the back of the building, filling in what used to be a gravel parking lot. This expansion gave the Capitol Theatre much needed room to facilitate modern Broadway Touring Shows as well as the ability to host Pre-Tour Techs, allowing for Yakima audiences to receive world first exclusive programming.

Today, the Capitol Theatre Committee programs, manages, and maintains the city owned Capitol and 4th Street Theatres. The mission of the Capitol Theatre Committee is to curate dynamic programming, foster community access, and perpetuate the Theatre's historical and cultural legacy; with a vision of 365 days a year of cultural expression.
